Sermon Summary, Sept 29, 2019

Serving Living Stones

- The strength of the church is not its physical walls but its living walls.
 - We are living stones, and together we build God's spiritual house: his church (1 Pet 2:5a).
- The strength of a stone is not by itself but as it is built up with other stones into a mighty fortress.
- The only way that we can be a mighty fortress of God is if every living stone does its part and holds it weight
- We are all priests (1 Pet 2:5b).
 - We can speak to God directly and we make spiritual sacrifices to him.
- We are called to give back to God from the spiritual gifts he has so graciously bestowed upon us.
 - o Everyone is uniquely gifted and has a part to play.
 - To not use what God gave you for his glory is a sin (Mat 25:14-30).
- Above all, we must keep in mind that Jesus is the cornerstone of our spiritual house (1 Pet 2:6).
 - o We are only affective if we are rooted in him.
 - Jesus' sacrifice was that he died to be the corner stone of the church, so too we need to sacrifice our lives to build up and finish the work he began.
