EXODUS

FROM SLAVERY TO FREEDOM

Exodus is the gospel in the Old Testament – the story of an oppressed, oppressive and idolatrous world and a God who brings freedom. Though chronicling events from thousands of years ago, the story of the Exodus is as fresh and needed today as ever.

Currently, we are in an extended study on the 10 Commandments – not just as vital moral laws, but as a revelation of the God of Exodus, and the Way of Freedom for all.

This morning we are pleased to welcome back Daniel McDougall as he brings us the final lesson in our series on the Ten Commandments:

“You shall not covet your neighbour’s house. You shall not covet your neighbour’s wife, or his male or female servant, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbour.” (Exodus 20:17)

PRAYER MATTERS

This week we pray for Aimee, who teaches English in Asia where she is also a bold witness seeking to build relationships with students and bring them to relationship with Jesus.

We pray for wisdom and strength for Aimee as she walks alongside the students who are facing increasing challenges because of the political situation. We pray that more students will be willing to read the Bible with Aimee and her colleagues. We also pray for Aimee as she prepares for a group of American students who will be coming to her school for a short term missions trip in late May. We pray for success in getting all the arrangements made, but also for transformation in the lives of both the visiting and local students.
