INTO THE LIFE OF

JESUS

MARK 1:9-13

Introductions matter, don't they?

They set the scene and sow core ideas and themes. Although not the opening text, Mark 1:9-13 is still a part of Mark's introduction of Jesus and his gospel.

This morning we explore Mark's account of the Baptism and testing of Jesus.

AFTER CHURCH IN THE PRAYER ROOM

PRAYER MATTERS

This week, we pray for Aimee, who teaches English in Asia where she is a bold witness to bring students into a relationship with Jesus, in an environment where church groups are regularly disbanded by police. After a summer break in Canada, Aimee is now back with her team, unpacking their theme for this year "Going deeper, Reaching Further". We pray for them as they focus on working with the local Christian community, and in particular with Christian students, encouraging them to overcome their fear of sharing their faith. We also pray for Aimee and her team as they begin to study the Bible with students who have expressed interest, and as they incorporate stories from the Bible into their English lessons. We join Aimee and her team in praying that they will make wise choices that further the kingdom of God, as they knowingly place themselves in what Aimee calls the "risky edges" of their Christian outreach.
